

Edward Sakala

Mr Sakala is Executive Director for the Law Association of Zambia (LAZ). He is a qualified management expert with a strong legal background, he attended Commonwealth fellowship at Law Society of England and Wales where he was exposed to management biased to running legal institutions through training facilitated by Canadian Bar Association at Legal Resource Centre of South Africa, IBA's Human Rights Institute and the National University of Ireland.

Mr Sakala has over 15 years at senior management level serving in various capacities in carrying out both national and international assignments that include National Director for 15 member organisations led Network for Paralegal Alliance, a Programmer of Restorative Justice and Access to Justice initiative. He is a Board member for the National School of Leadership and has a wider experience in human resource and project management. He is a Master of Laws and Human Rights research fellow in advancing advocacy work accredited by international institutions. He has trained many community paralegals and provided legal advice, social justice and conflict management at both national and community level. Due to his positive contribution in civic education campaign and involvement in the legal aid sector,

Mr Sakala was appointed by the Ministry of Justice (Government) as member of a Committee drafting the National Legal Aid Policy for Zambia, and also appointed by the Ministry of Justice on the Inter-Ministerial Committee on the European Union (EU) support to Justice Sector in Zambia. His passion to contribute to the legal sector and human rights advocacy work exposed him to conferences in the SADC region and beyond. He is a recipient of the Lexis Nexis Award of International Institute of Law Association Chief Executives (IILACE) of Commonwealth.

Mr Sakala also holds specialized qualifications in Human Resource Management, Policy Development, Project Management, Public Relations and Leadership.